Director’s Letter

Stand and Deliver: Spiva’s theme for 2018-2019. What do you take a stand for? What do you believe in? Do you value the arts and quality of life? Spiva hopes you stand behind our new building, slated to open in Fall 2021. The Cornell Complex will increase our square footage and let us offer museum-quality exhibits we can’t offer in our current building. With so many gorgeous indoor and outdoor spaces, Spiva will be THE place to BE in downtown Joplin, and for miles around as visitors travel Route 66. Catch the new building fever with us! Spiva staff and Board of Directors are hard at work planning for the transition while considering the NOW by continuously delivering stellar exhibits, classes, and programs every day. What do you want to deliver? How can you act NOW, and for Spiva’s future? Become a member, register your business as a member, volunteer at the front desk, in the classroom, or on a committee, build our future by contributing to the Cornell Complex Capital Campaign, sponsor an upcoming exhibit as a family or business. There are so many ways to deliver. Thanks for standing with the arts.

Josie Mai, Executive Director

THANK YOU...

Bradley and Holly Crane of Bookhouse Cinema for hosting FilmSpiva 48-Hour Film Competition; Josh and Megan Long of Forged Waterjet Fabrications LLC and Joplin ProPrint for FilmSpiva 48-Hour Film Competition Awards; Brody Coursey for helping hang Art and the Animal; Cleo Copeland and Tom Brown for help hanging all exhibits; John Coleman of RSVPaint for crate storage for Art and the Animal; Caley Hedman for bringing lunch for staff; Indigo Sky’s Chef Dale and Sandra Pennington for such stellar food and service at the Main Gallery Dinner; David Pryor and MO Eagle for beverages at Trivia Night; Samantha Brotherton for flowers; Noel Glenn for photos donation; Erin Silfka for paint donation; Julia Cheung for craft book donation; Jim Fleischaker for ‘93 Spiva t-shirt.

Sponsored by the Hartley Family Philanthropic Foundation and John and Joy Cragin
Hosts: Macadoodles Fine Wines, The Wild Flower, and Joplin Area Chamber of Commerce Young Professionals Network
Lance and Sharon Beshore, food sponsor
MEMBERS’ OPENING RECEPTION
Friday, August 17, 5:30 – 7:30 PM Colors presented by MSSU Show-Me Gold Program
Suggested Contribution for Non-Member Guests: $5

Following 8.5 years in the Air Force with two tours in Iraq, the effects of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) began to overwhelm my life shortly after leaving military service. Seeking traditional therapies through a failing Veterans Affairs healthcare system, I began to research alternative therapies to treat the symptoms of PTSD. Experiencing relief through college art courses, I sought out veteran art experiences which led me to the second national Military Experience & the Arts (MEA2) Symposium in Lawton, Oklahoma. The symposium offered over 70 workshops focused around writing, poetry, filmmaking, visual arts, comic book design, paper-making, and art as therapy. MEA2 set me on a path to pursue the arts as a healing modality for veterans in our community. Spiva’s Vet Art program and At Ease: Veteran Contemporary were born out of the struggles military members face during their service and the difficulty processing these experiences as veterans transitioning back into their communities.

– Aaron Skapik, Curator

At Ease: Veteran Contemporary is a visual representation of the military experience. It is art about the experience made by veterans themselves. The exhibit primarily features pieces from two collections, the National Veteran Art Museum in Chicago and ART-Ifacts from Art and the Military. In addition, pieces from two regional veterans will be showcased, Edmund Ness of Baxter Springs and Jim Leedy of Kansas City.

Related programs include a Panel Discussion: Art and the Military, Saturday, August 18, 11am-Noon. Guests include Dr. Tara Tappert of The Arts and the Military, Geraldine Craig, Professor of Art at K-State and creator of the Earl Project, Ted and Amy Donaldson of Joplin’s Compass Quest, and David Ross, veteran and Vet Art participant. Mediated by Josie Mai. Donations encouraged.

In addition, the Heartland Concert Band Ensemble will perform on Saturday, September 22nd at 7pm. Join us just before at 6pm for a Veteran Family Picnic in the parking lot. Open to the public. Donations encouraged.

Angel Brame: One Per Day, A Year of Small Decisions
Sponsored by Spiva’s Board of Directors

As a clay artist, I am always looking for way to challenge myself. Clay offers unique opportunities. It can be two dimensional or three dimensional. It can be glazed simply or decorated in layers of intricate detail and mediums. Clay is so full of possibilities and therein lies the chance to explore, push, and investigate.

In an effort to assign myself a task that would push my creativity and encourage growth, I have chosen to make one small piece per day for an entire year with a few stipulations. Each piece must be a pouring vessel and must be small. These pieces offer vast choices in type and surface decoration, non-clay additions, glaze and cold finishes, and overall assembly of parts. This adventure has caused me to not just think outside of the box, but destroy it completely.

I jokingly refer to these pieces as “my babies,” but at the end of the year, they will truly be a labor of love.

– Angel Brame

Angel Brame is a Spiva favorite. As a long time member, she has regularly participated in the Membership Show and sells constantly in the gift shop. She is also Spiva’s Volunteer Coordinator. One Per Day is an important moment for Angel and Spiva is thrilled to be a part of it. Before her showing at Spiva, One Per Day was at the Jacoby Art Center in Alton, Illinois and The Foundry in St. Charles, Missouri. The work was recently featured in the July/August issue of Pottery Making Illustrated. To see a list of the full collection, go to www.dragonfliesandmudpottery.com

71st Membership Show
Presented by Liberty Utilities – Empire District
MEMBERS’ OPENING RECEPTION
Friday, October 19, 5:30 – 7:30 PM
Suggested Contribution for Non-Member Guests: $5

This year Spiva’s annual showcase of members’ work is celebrating 71 years! This is remarkable. What an honor to host and participate in this long-running proclamation of our members’ hearts, minds, skills, and passions. That is what is on display. It is brave to share original art with the general public. So this exhibit is honorable, acknowledging ideas, vision, chronicled by time spent and materials purchased. It will surely be a thrill to experience 2018’s reflection of our culture, time, and interests.

Sponsored by longtime partner Liberty Utilities – Empire District, this 71st annual exhibit brings together members, friends, and artists who gather over libations on opening night to toast art, family, and friendship. Again this year, the lovely and generous Friends of St. Avips will both provide and serve delicious bites.

Nearly 100 area artists will provide pieces of several mediums, including ceramics, watercolor, wood, oils, metal, photography, and mixed media. Pieces entered in the adult competitive categories are eligible for cash awards totaling $2,400, once again generously provided by Dr. John and Mrs. Barbara Windle. Awards are given for both 2-D and 3-D works.

In addition to the cash awards, an artist will receive the Barrie Hunt Memorial Award for an Emerging Artist in Water Media, and his or her name will join previous award winners on a perpetual plaque in the Spiva lobby. The youth divisions will honor the winners of the Donna Gilbreth Memorial Children’s and Youth Awards with prizes totaling $600, courtesy of the Windles. Awards in all categories will be presented at the opening at 6:30pm on opening night, Friday, October 19th.

To Everything There is a Season
Sponsored by William H. Perry III

I have always been compelled to study, frame and attempt to make sense of the world around me. I happen to use a camera to do so. Photography is my constant companion and has been my life-long passion. Like a hunter, my senses are fully engaged. I am looking, I am waiting, I am poised to press the shutter. It can be a lonely and challenging venture, but one that I feel compelled to take on. Day after day, season after season, year after year. It is with a fierce sense of wonder and an open heart that I navigate through the world, camera always close at hand. The pictures I make are proof of my journey – pieces of evidence scattered alongside the footsteps I leave behind.

— Gloria Baker Feinstein

Gloria has been a long-time friend of Spiva, exhibiting in multiple PhotoSpiva exhibits and serving as the juror in 1987. The exhibit displays approximately 30 photographs from 5 distinct bodies of work: Jamison Park, Grandmother with a Camera, Appalachia, Convergence, and Dreams and Other Things. Spiva is honored to feature her excellent work. See more at www.gloriabakerfeinstein.com
